POLICY STATEMENT

The James F. Winterstein Library serves as one of the centerpieces of National University of Health Sciences (NUHS) educational mission. The library is an integral part of the University's educational, clinical, and research programs and has established fair and equitable procedures required to meet the needs of students, faculty, staff and other patrons.

The James F. Winterstein Library supports the institutional focus on the integration of allopathic and alternative medicine disciplines.

Operational procedures for this policy can be obtained from the library director.
