

PROFESSIONAL LICENSURE DISCLOSURES

Professional licensure has different rules and procedures depending on your state, country, or international region of practice. The accredited educational programs at the National University of Health Sciences (NUHS) meet the educational requirements of many licensing boards. For each NUHS clinical program, we have noted whether the program meets educational requirements for licensure, does not meet educational requirements for licensure, or that a determination has not yet been made. Other requirements for licensure may include professional board examinations, background checks, and/or fingerprints. Program completion does not guarantee licensure. Students are encouraged to check their state's information and contact the appropriate licensing agency to seek information and additional guidance before applying for licensure. The information presented below is current as of April 22, 2022.

Doctor of Chiropractic Medicine (DC degree)

If you plan to practice chiropractic medicine in the U.S., you are required to pass four board examinations administered by the National Board of Chiropractic Examiners (NBCE). Other licensure requirements vary by state and can be found on the American Chiropractic Association's State Licensing Boards website.
